

Do you or someone that you care about suffer from migraines?

The ECLIPSE study is looking for participants to understand if an oral investigational study drug could help in the treatment of migraine.

You may be able to participate in the ECLIPSE study if:

- You are between 18 to 75 years old.
- You had your first migraine before age 50.
- You have experienced migraines for at least 1 year.
- On average, you experience 2 to 8 migraines per month.

This is not a complete list of requirements; the study doctor will review all of these with you.

All study-related care and assessments will be provided at no cost. Travel compensation may be available.

If you think the ECLIPSE study could be for you or someone you care about, please contact the study team for further information.
